Welcome, Barbara Ann!

Kelowna is proud to have as its guest, Barbara Ann Scott. The people of this city have watched with interest her progress in her chosen field and, with twelve million other Canadians rejoiced at her success, the reward of long years of untiring efforts to perfect her technique.

Miss Scott has been an inspiration to Canadian youth. She and other sincere headliners in the field of sport have demonstrated that this country can produce world champions. And—perhaps more important—her career has shown that top-flight stars reach the pinnacles through sheer, hard work, no matter how great their ability. Miss Scott's story can be told in five words: practice, practice and more practice. In figure skating as in any field of endeavor, the primary essential to success is application. That is a lesson the youth of today must learn.

But while Kelowna is proud to welcome Miss Scott as the world champion figure skater, the city is proud to welcome her for herself alone. Twenty-four hours in the city and she has captured the hearts of all who have seen her. As a figure skater she is flawless; as a person she is charming. Kelowna now knows why she has been dubbed "Canada's Sweetheart."

His Worship the Mayor last night in presenting the golden key to the city to Miss Scott put it very neatly when he said that while the presentation was in recognition of the honor she had brought to Canada through her achievements, Kelowna desired, too, to honor her for herself alone and the fine example she has been to Canadian youth.

BARBARA ANN SCOTT WON the hearts of Kelownians the moment she stepped off the train yesterday afternoon. Canada's "Queen of the Ice" performed before a capacity house in Kelowna's Memorial Arena last night, and this afternoon a matinee show was held for the benefit of school children. The third performance of "Skating Sensations of 1950" will commence tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Upper left, Barbara Ann is shown entering the automobile of Fred Gibson, after the president of the Kelowna Board of Trade, along with Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, welcomed her to the city yesterday afternoon.

Canada's figure skating champion is shown in the centre picture during last night's performance at the arena, while on the extreme right, B.A. is talking into the microphone a few seconds after Mayor Hughes-Games presented her with a gold brooch in the form of a key.

Barbara Ann was also granted the Freedom of the City. The pert beauty of Canada's ice lanes is shown in the Indian costume which she wears in the grand finale of the two hour show. The costume is reputedly valued at $5,000. Standing in the background is Mrs. Hughes-Games.

While Mayor Hughes-Games was reading the scroll to Barbara Ann last night, unfortunately the P.A. system failed, and for those who failed to hear him, the text appears elsewhere in The Courier.

Heart Attack Proves Fatal to O.V.M. Roxby

SUDDEN death last Tuesday afternoon of O. V. M. Roxby, M.B.E., M.C., came as a shock to this community.

The inspector for the Kelowna regulated building area, who served with distinction during the last two wars, died suddenly from a heart attack on the Black Mountain Road, in the Rutland area. He was 55 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted by Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole from St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican church Friday (tomorrow) afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will follow in Kelowna cemetery under the direction of Kelowna Funeral Directors.

Osborne Victor Maude Roxby was born at Alverstoke, Hampshire, England, on March 14, 1894.

He came to Canada in March, 1913, and was on his way back to England the following year, when Great War I broke out. Returning to the Old Country, he joined the King Edward's Horse Regiment (Imperial), and later transferred to the Warwickshire regiment. From 1915 to 1917, he served as staff captain in the Macedonia force in Greece.

It was while serving in the Mediterranean area that he met Mrs. Roxby, and they were married on April 23, 1919. Mr. Roxby was awarded the Military Cross for conspicuous gallantry during the Salonika campaign.

Fruit Grower
In May, 1919, Mr. and Mrs. Roxby set out for Canada, coming direct to East Kelowna. They later took up land under the soldier settlement scheme in the Rutland area, and were engaged in fruit growing in this district for a couple of years before returning to East Kelowna where they purchased the old Salvage place.

They resided at East Kelowna until 1932 when they moved into Turn to Page 16, Story 2

CADI SUSPENDS DRIVING PERMIT

Ferdinand Lebold, whose driving privileges were suspended several months ago, appeared in city police court Tuesday charged with unlawfully operating a motor vehicle.

Justice of the Peace T. R. Hill fined Lebold $25 and costs. An additional fine of $5 and costs was imposed on a charge of operating a car at night without lights.

Cancer Diagnostic Clinic Will Be Here Tomorrow

HOPE that regular diagnostic clinics will be set up in the Okanagan in the near future is held by cancer victims as the B.C. Cancer Institute's consultative service is making its first appearance in this part of the province.

Through the co-operation of the local branch of the B.C. Cancer Society, the Okanagan Valley Health Unit and the Kelowna Hospital Society, the first diagnostic clinic will be held at the health unit's office, rear of Kelowna General Hospital, tomorrow (Friday), starting at 9 a.m.

In charge will be Dr. A. M. Evans, medical director of the B.C.

CANADA'S sweetheart, Barbara Ann Scott, brought down the house Wednesday night when "Skating Sensations of 1950" opened at the Memorial Arena. This $100,000 extravaganza is Canada's first big ice revue with an all-star cast of professional skaters. Its appearance in Kelowna marks a new high in the entertainment history of this city.

Barbara Ann captured her Kelowna audience from the moment she stepped on the ice for her initial appearance in "World Olympiad." This number uses the Olympic games as background and flaming torches make the introduction impressive.

The capacity audience roared its approval as Barbara Ann made her spectacular entrance. In this first routine she showed the flawless blade work that had won her the women's world and Olympic championships.

A matinee show was held this afternoon, and tonight at 8:30 p.m. B.A. and her troupe will present a third show. At the conclusion of tonight's show, Les Wilson, president of the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, will make Barbara an honorary member of the organization. Later Jaycees will hold a buffet supper at the Eldorado Arms in honor of the visitors.

The supporting company of 63 in. White thrilled spectators with cludes only nine American imports, breathtaking lifts and spins and The rest were chosen from the other daring acrobatic feats. Citation to Barbara Ann On Receiving Freedom Of the City

The Citizens of Kelowna and district, having had the privilege of watching your great accomplishment as the world's finest figure skater, welcome you to their city with all their hearts.

Because of your many long years of arduous practice, and because of your great devotion to perfection in the art of figure skating, which has brought great honor to our country, Canada, and because of the tremendous encouragement you have given to young athletes throughout the country, and because of your great personal charm, we wish to do honor to you by extending to you the Freedom of our City.

This honor has been given only once before, to a great soldier who led our regiment with extraordinary valour and skill through the Italian and French campaigns. The fact that you are the second to receive this honor is a demonstration of the high regard in which our citizens hold you, for what you have done for our country, Canada. As a token of our esteem and to mark the occasion we would like you to accept this key in the form of a brooch, suitably inscribed. This is an emblem of the fact that having already won the keys of our hearts, we now offer you the keys of our city.

May we wish you long years of happiness and contentment, and years of bringing happiness and joys to others.

GRAND FINALE OF "Skating Sensations of 1950" is the Indian Legend act, starring the entire company. Members of the troupe are dressed as Indian maids and Indian Braves, while Barbara Ann is the Indian princess. The costume worn by Miss Scott reputedly cost $5,000.

Historic Dewdney Trail

Okanagan Pioneer Tells of Hike Made Six Years Ago From Hope to Princeton

(Editors note: Frank M. Buckland, well-known Okanagan Valley pioneer, was a member of a party which hiked from Princeton to Hope in September, 1943, over the historic Dewdney Trail, part of which is now the Hope-Princeton highway.)

In the following article, Mr. Buckland has penned some of his thoughts at the time he made the trip. In view of the fact the new highway will be officially opened on Wednesday, Mr. Buckland's story should be of interest to Okanagan residents, especially to new comers.)

By F. M. BUCKLAND
A desire long deferred, has been gratified at last. Ever since coming into the interior of British Columbia, I have wanted to travel over the old and historic Dewdney Trail. Old timers have told me many tales of interest and if all the stories, I have listened to are true, romance, adventure and tragedy are associated with every mile of its rugged length.

There are tales of hardship, and narrow escapes from death, of love-making, debauchery and privation all associated with by-gone pack trains and travellers who Turn to Page 3, Story 1

WELL-KNOWN PRAIRIE MAN PASSES AWAY

Rev. E. W. Baskier, First United Church, conducted funeral service this afternoon from the chapel of Kelowna Funeral Directors for J. Mitchell, 440 Harvey Ave., who passed away at his home on Monday, October 24, at the age of 78. Interment followed in Kelowna cemetery.

Resident here since 1943 and best known in the Calgary district where he was a Holstein breeder for some 45 years, Mr. Mitchell had been in failing health for some time.

Native of Ottawa, Mr. Mitchell gave up his cattle ranching in the early forties to come to B.C. From 1941 to 1943 he and his son Eric operated the Valley Dairy in Penticton. He came to Kelowna to retire a little over five years ago. He is survived by his wife and son Eric, both of Kelowna.

CITY SOLICITOR TO TAKE ACTION

City solicitor will be requested to take action against individuals who have failed to pay for trade licences in the city.

This stand was taken by City Council Monday night when C. E. Frannan, city clerk, informed city fathers there are still a number of unpaid licences. Registered letters have already been sent to the delinquent licence holders.

"PRESENTED TO BARBARA ANN SCOTT by the City of Kelowna, B.C.—26-10-49" reads the inscription on this gold brooch, which was presented to her at last night's ice frolic. The brooch, made in Kelowna, was fashioned in the shape of a key.

By-pass Road Plans Will be Resisted By Group at Penticton

PENTICTON—With the objective of protesting a by-pass highway to the west of the city, across Okanagan river, definite organization was set up here last week.

This group, naming itself the Citizens Highway Organization, is setting to work to "make the public fully aware of the gravity of a situation that's developing," according to L. J. Denton, chairman of an action committee.

The committee says it intends first to muster support from the council and board of trade and other organizations, and then, with such community support as it can gain, to carry its case to the provincial authorities.

Other members of the committee are Carl Pederson, Bert Gibbs, John Horton, G. J. Winter, S. Stogre, G. Gerow, Jim Henry, Cliff Wilkins, Jack Lawrence.

Background to this activity consists of the governmental intention to construct a by-pass highway to the west of Okanagan river, leading from Kruger's Hill north to join the main Okanagan highway as it proceeds towards Summerland.

This intention, it has been explained, is because of the need to find some outlet for heavier and thicker traffic which wishes to proceed directly past Penticton instead of through it, a factor that will become much more important with the opening of the Hope-Princeton.

Will Do Best
The board of trade highway committee has also given a great deal of attention to this matter, disclaiming responsibility for determining such a new route but announcing that it is trying to do the best for the city under the circumstances, once the government has made up its mind.

The Citizens Highway Organization spokesmen, following their meeting, said "We're not against the government or the board of trade or anybody. We're for Penticton."

In a statement signed by the committee, it was contended that "past experience has proven that other cities and towns which have been by-passed have invariably suffered a considerable loss of business. We do not want such a situation to develop here."

The statement continues with the comment that "viewing our present approaches to our city, it can be stressed without fear of contradiction that there are no finer scenic routes. We spend thousands of dollars bringing tourists to our city. Then surely no thought should be given to the proposed by-passing of our beaches and orchard lands. Should this by-pass be built there is every reason to believe that a diversion of business would automatically arise. Furthermore these businesses, possibly springing up across the river, would not be paying taxes to the city of Penticton, with the route through Indian Reserve land."

Tourist Dollar
In this area the tourist dollar is second only to the fruit industry in importance, it is also emphasized.

Scout Head Appeals For More Workers

PENTICTON—Scouting is one of the answers to what ails the world, believes Major-General D. C. Spry, C.B.E., D.S.O., of Ottawa, the Chief Executive for Canada in the International Boy Scouts Association.

General Spry spoke to a gathering of 80 scout leaders and committeemen of the district at Keremeos on scouting, its organization, and added observation on the World Rover Meet held this year in Norway.

"The object of the scouting movement is to make better men of its members. It is not a 'sissy' organization calculated to make 'goodies' out of boys as many people think," the speaker told his listeners.

The General said, "Some get the idea that we take boys in and confine them to a church basement or school auditorium where we attempt to inculcate the principles of scouting in their minds. In some cases, the idea holds true, but we try to keep scouting on the basis of more outdoor activities, such as Baden-Powell had in mind when he formed the movement. For it is in the outdoors where we can better give boys those healthy rugged and exciting activities which he craves and which are best for him."

In clear, direct and concise language, General Spry held the deep interest of everyone present as he told how the national and international bodies of the World Scout Movement were working together to make scouting a movement which would build "better men for a better world."

All scouting nations were represented at the moot in Norway this year; about 42 nations of different languages in all being represented, the gathering was told.

One of the outstanding moments of the Moot, General Spry felt, came near the end when the scout prince was given by all the delegates each speaking in his own native tongue.

Speaking of scouting as a Canadian movement, the speaker revealed that at the end of September, 1949, there were 109,350 boy scouts and cubs in the country, an increase of ten per cent over the figure three years ago.

"We can do this by improving ourselves, our attitudes toward scouting, and our conceptions of what 'true scouting' means. Thus we will attract like and we will get into the organization the better class of leader."

He continued: "Who knows that one of the boys in your troop may be a future Einstein or Prime Minister? If he is handled right, but misguiding leader may kill out that boy's initial enthusiasm at the start and thus do great harm to the boy's future and to the resources of the country as a whole."

Canada's youngest General, at 36 years, Daniel C. Spry left an army post in September, 1946, as Vice-Chief of the General Staff to become the Chief Executive Commissioner of the Boy Scouts Association. The effects of his military career, began in 1934, when he attended

IT STRIKES AT YOUTH
In 1900 tuberculosis was the first cause of death in Canada. Now it is seventh. This is a considerable victory but it is not enough, for TB remains the leading cause of death for persons between the ages of 15 and 45. This means that tuberculosis is still a great drain on the nation—greater than appears on the surface. Chest x-rays detect hidden TB. Make sure you are healthy. Have a free chest x-ray today.

ney sponsored by the Kereonea Board of Trade, which would give me an opportunity to cover some of the country I had heard so much about years ago, and to inspect parts of the road that would one day bring our Okanagan Valley a hundred or more miles closer to Coast cities.

Hope Caravan

The Caravan of Hope, organized by the Southern Interior Board of Trade, was to travel over the present day roads from the Similkameen to the Fraser River at Hope. These roads are linked together by seven miles of mountain trail. The whole venture provided a cloudless sky, some hundred or more hikers, representing every city, municipality and settlement in Vancouver and Vernon, assembled at Princeton to start the first leg of this history making journey. The Kelowna contingent consisted of members of the Board of Trade, the City Council, two of the fair sex, and myself.

At 6 a.m. on Labor Day, September 6, 1943, saw us loaded into private cars and government trucks after a fortifying breakfast of ham and eggs and fried potatoes.

Then as the sun came over the Okanagan Hills in all its brilliance, we started climbing out of town to travel a high ridge of land between the Tulameen and Similkameen Rivers following an old road that will have to be relocated in some places. Gaining the crest of the ridge we entered a park-like country, well grassed and treed, and after travelling some eight miles over the same route traversed by the Dewdney Trail, we left it, heading south, into the new "Manning Park" game preserve.

We were travelling high up on the left bank of the Similkameen with Allenby and Copper Mountain mines in full view on the opposite side of the river. These mining properties seemed to be held together, and, to the outside world, a railway that played hide and seek through its many tunnels.

Open Grass Land

For miles along the north bank of the Similkameen, there is plenty of open grass land that is pleasing to the eye of the stock man who appreciates good summer range. About eight miles out, the new highway, started several years ago, was reached. This road had good grade, sweeping curves and a gravelled surface thirty feet wide from ditch to ditch, and continues in a southerly direction for about twenty-five miles until it reaches the Rock River, a tributary of the Similkameen. Here we followed along the north bank of the Rock in a south westerly leg for about ten miles, crossing two small creeks, then turned up the Cambic, heading northwest. This part of the highway is well opened to wind and sun and should be easily kept in repair. At a point seven miles north of the International line, we passed a promontory where the Caravan of Hope, in the memory of E. C. Manning, Chief Forester of British Columbia, stood, and here we made a brief stop.

The rarified air of Princeton's 2100 foot level was vigorous but chilling for those who rode in trucks, so the higher the altitude reached with the miles, the colder became the unprotected hikers. Our car had driven through Copper Creek Camp some twenty-six miles out, without stopping, but the open trucks pulled in, with their shivering human freight, who had a chance to warm up beside a wood stove, and swallow a cup of hot coffee.

Pack Mules

The road so far would permit a speed of thirty-five or forty miles an hour comfortably at the present time. The Cambic entered the Rock, U. S. Forestry men came this summer, by way of Osoyoos and the Similkameen, with trucks loaded with pack mules and supplies, and the road was in the Washington State. It was the nearest point they could reach the burning timber by road, and they were obliged to pack in from the Canadian side where they eventually got control and put the fire out. We had reached camp Four and The Divide, 4450 feet above sea level. Dipping over the pass we made contact with the first road which was making a cut in the hill on the south side of the head waters of the Skagit River. From what is known as the Allison Pass, the new grade followed down a mile or so and crossed to the north bank, then, about five miles north west of the pass we came to a bulldozer and a clearing gang at work.

The cars we had ridden in were left at the road camp and work trucks transported the hikers another five miles over this new and unfinished grade. The road camp had a population of 170 Japanese and a few key white men. Their cabins were neat and trim, with little vegetable and flower gardens well taken care of and a recreation centre in the shape of a ball park, quite an attractive little village in the heart of the wilderness. Despite the hatred expressed against this race at that time, due to the war, we learned from the foreman that they were working as well as could be expected under present conditions, and gave little or no trouble.

The Japanese at this camp are slashing, clearing and drilling, while the few white men on the job handle the power and dynamite. By 10:30 a.m. we had arrived at the eastern end of the footpath marked along the side hill well above the Skagit River. A light trail not wide enough for pack horses had been blazed several years before and followed closely the proposed highway.

As we trudged along, we saw the bushmen clearing on the survey beneath us and we were told later that they were averaging about 3,000 feet a week, which was fair work in that kind of country. Behind us the heavy bulldozer could be heard snorting into the gravel and earth of the right of way, and all along the first mile the falling of heavy trees crashed noisily to earth. I, for one, regretted the necessary destruction of so much valuable fire wood when the fuel shortage in our large centres was so acute. For the first three miles of our hike we passed through thick brush on a very even grade. Thence we came to broken country and crossed with as many downs as ups, and four small creeks that emptied into Skagit. Already we were beginning to notice the floral change in the country which was assuming a coast appearance.

Open Meadow

Five miles of hiking brought us to a small open meadow where sign posts pointed to the Dewdney Trail that we had come back to after our long swing to the south to avoid altitude. This opening, and others to the right we did not see, is known as Allison Meadows, a favourite camping spot in the olden days.

The sign post pointers informed us the direction to be taken if one wished to follow the shorter trail, some thirty-trimiles to Princeton over a 6,000 foot mountain. Another finger pointed down the river to the north west and Hope. From the meadow with its sign boards and a sunken grave marked with a weathered wooden cross, which bore no epitaph, we entered the wide and well travelled Dewdney Trail, a trail cleared for ten feet so that pack animals had plenty of room to move along without rubbing their loads against the trees. Passing along a pleasant stretch of bottom land; salmon berries, devil's club and Rhododendron flanked the trail with tree boughs interwoven overhead. Entering a tunnel of green enchantment, with a brilliant sun casting lace-like patterns of gold on the well-worn path, one is reminded of a medieval picture of Sherwood Forest and, with little imagination could visualize Robin Hood and his merry men coming up to meet you. Or it might bring back again the ghost of pack trains as you listen for the tinkling advance of the bell mare and the pop of the packers' black-snake.

STRIKE VOTE CALLED IN C.G.E. PLANTS

—Central Press Canadian

Trouble at Peterboro C.G.E. plant started over interpretation of ruling affecting pay of about 40 girls of induction motor department, some of whom are shown here. Union plans that a strike vote will be taken in Toronto and Cobourg C.G.E. plants which would finally involve about 7,600 Peterboro workers after a brief "holiday," are back on job to permit re-opening negotiations.

Hard Climb

Instead, we met several members of the Hope Company of Pacific Coast Mountaineers, who no doubt had their eyes open for any of the hikers who might have the bad luck to twist an ankle or need assistance of any kind on the night trail. Fortunately nothing like that happened. Crossing the Skagit, a tributary of the Skagit, on a rough corduroy bridge, four feet wide and very ancient, we stepped into the old trail country with a long hard climb for half a mile to surmount a five-hundred foot cliff. Standing on the edge of this precipice one can look directly into the rushing of blue waters and toss a rock into the pool beneath. Climbing this hill was hard work, but going down the west side was more distressing. The steep switchbacks that zigzag the face of the hill brought into play leg muscles already tired, that just about crippled some of us. Another mile and back on highway grade state roads we reached the famous Skagit Rocks where powdermen were heaving mammoth stumps out of the right of way with mighty discharges.

The rock is a good half mile long, and the road cutting is high above the river that now turns south to enter the State of Washington, fifteen or sixteen miles away. The old trail ran along the rock face, and had been clawed out by hand with pick and shovel. In many places it was only two or three feet wide with abrupt ups and downs of a few feet that made it mean travelling and must have been torture for the unshod animals that trod its jagged surface.

Single File

Man or beast could only pass in single file, and there were places where a wide pack was in danger of being rubbed. A slip or a stumble at some points would mean a fall of several hundred feet into the river below. It must have been a very dangerous path to follow in snow or ice. About half way through Skagit Rocks, just as we came to a sharp point we came to the bulldozer crew shoving some newly staked rock over the canyon side.

Stepping gingerly down the twelve foot face of their cut, we left the old trail that had served the country for over eighty years and landed on the grade of the new highway which we followed a short distance to where trucks and cars were parked to take the hikers on. Some of the party had walked eleven miles, and others taking advantage of work trucks, had covered several miles of foot travel. The vanguard of hikers arrived at the Hope end of the tramp at about 2 p.m., and an hour and a half later the last of the 108 stragglers in and were accounted for as each one signed a register. We were a motley company. Some dressed in street attire, others in hiking breeches, sport shirts, high laced and iron shod boots, slacks and mackinaws of every color and pattern ever seen in the woods. One man to be realistic took a packboard on his back all the way over. Three basket racks and several cars were then filled and started on the next lap of the journey.

Travelling over the road built in 1883 by Col. Moberly Royal Engineers, it was interesting to note how well the stonework of the retaining wall on the slide we crossed, had stood the time. This wagon road, started eighty years ago, had ambitions to cross southern British Columbia and visit Edmonton on its way to Eastern Canada. Such were the visions of our pioneers when this section was constructed.

The Royal Engineers road is cut through the timber with a breadth of ten feet and the few small bridges of corduroy are not more than eight feet wide. This narrow ribbon of transportation goes up hill and down dale without regard to grade. But our trucks literally galloped over the road as we climbed up Sumallo Creek, changing gears to Jack Morton, United Electrical Workers local president, talks to Peterboro employees of the C.G.E. plant where a strike vote was called over interpretation of a Labor Board ruling. The meeting voted 1,746-289, to strike if the labor board ruling was not accepted by the C.G.E. management.

brought us to the last divide we had to cross. Here we visited the Japanese concentration village of Tashme, with its 2700 internees from the coast areas. The hour or so spent at this large ranch, almost two square miles of bottom land and with its substantial buildings, was not appreciated by those of our party who were longing for a chair in a beer parlor. It was a further fourteen miles into Hope. The road improved as we followed the Nicola River down to join the Fraser. This part of the trip was uneventful and uncomfortable, the dust was thick and, by design or accident, we arrived at our journey's end about two minutes after the beer parlor had closed. But there was the Legion! They had plenty of ice and lots of visitors. A good samaritan supplied me with two fingers of rye and the proper portion of water, to wet an already good appetite for the scrumptious dinner served by the Rangers who took over the hotel for this occasion.

It was a dinner long to be remembered by those hungry hikers who partook of Hope's hospitality. This little riverside settlement was established by the Hudson's Bay Traders in 1847 and occupies a beautiful flat, fifty or seventy feet above the Fraser. It was the river port used during the early mining and ranching days and it is now served by two railroads. Hope has clean streets, tidy homes and gardens, and native trees that give it a park-like appearance. It will be the junction of two main motor roads from the prairies. A national monument cairn has been erected at the end of the main street on a little grass plot overlooking the river. Its legend tells us of the founding of Hope and something of its history.

At 8:30 p.m. a gathering of the representatives of the various Boards of Trade met in the town hall and aired their views on the matter of construction, necessity, advantages, etc., of the road we had just travelled. Mr. Sneddon, engineer of the Hope end, told us he was hopeful that with good weather the road could be completed by November. He further stated, "This is a pioneer road in every sense of the word and, thus, widening, barking and grading will come later."

Old Proclamation

A proclamation issued by Governor Douglas, dated 20th August, 1860, sets forth that an indenture was made dated 17th of the present month, "between Richard Clement Moody, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works in British Columbia, and Edgar Dewdney of New Westminster, for the construction of a certain trail, or road, for £760.00, ($380.00) per mile.

The Proclamation was cited "The Similkameen Road Bond Act, 1860."

Dewdney had a partner in Walter Mowbray, C.E., and they must have started work immediately, because we hear of Governor Doug-

From the B. C. Capital

The Royalite Oil Company of Calgary has been granted two oil prospecting licences involving some 18,600 acres on 11 Gulf Islands, it was announced by Hon. E. T. Kennedy, minister of lands and forests. The area will be carefully geologized by Royalite's competent geological staff preparatory to selecting a location for an initial well. The discovery of oil and natural gas in the Gulf Islands would be of utmost importance not only to the operating company but also to the entire province of British Columbia. The close proximity of the islands to main shipping lanes and to the principal industrial areas of the province lends unusual value to any production that may be discovered. Royalite is now a large producer in the Turner Valley and Redwater fields of Alberta.

AGRICULTURE OUTPUT
It is expected that the all-time record of $142,000,000 for agricultural production fixed in 1945 will be exceeded this year, it was announced by Hon. H. R. Bowman, minister of agriculture.

It is particularly worthy of note that the Fraser Valley which suffered so considerably during the disastrous floods of 1948 has staged a full comeback this year and it is expected the volume of produce will exceed that of last year.

IMPORTS SHOW GAIN
Value of imports through B. C. customs ports in July of this year totalled $18,494,397, a substantial gain over July 1948, Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, minister of trade and industry announced.

Imports through B. C. customs ports for the first seven months of last year totalled $126,888,815. This compared with $110,700,355 for the corresponding period of 1948.

If men were as anxious to do right as they are to get their "rights," the world would soon be righted.

DEBATE ROAD BY-PASS PLAN AT PENTICTON

Tourist Camp Proprietors Are Opposed to Changing Route of Present Highway

HEAVY INVESTMENTS

L. J. Denton Believes New Road Will Eventually be Built on East Side of Lake

PENTICTON—That the highways committee of the board of trade is giving its best attention to the projected new entrance to the city, as a result of plans by the provincial government to create a by-pass highway west of Okanagan river, was the report made by the committee's chairman, F. G. Pye, before last week's board meeting in the Legion hall.

"If present plans go through," Mr. Pye emphasized, "Penticton will have a beautiful entrance."

"It may take some years," he continued. "And it may take some money. But there is a plan to work on, and your committee will make every effort to see that it is followed through."

Mr. Pye was making his report following a session held by the committee a short time earlier with A. L. Carruthers, government public works official who has been directing river straightening preparations.

Four-Lane Bridge

A four-lane traffic bridge stemming from Eckhardt avenue west and linking with the by-pass route west of the river is envisioned, according to Mr. Pye's report. There would also be a new two-lane bridge at Skaha Lake. But the disappearance of the Fairview road crossing of the river, the familiar "red bridge" in its present location, might occur, as no longer vitally necessary.

A riverside drive has been discussed, with Mr. Carruthers intimating that construction on the right-of-way of the flood control project might be permitted.

"By many other improvements that we have had in mind," Mr. Pye concluded his report, "we hope to make this project of real use, and an attraction to our city."

He revealed that M. P. Finerty, Similkameen's member, would be meeting with public works officials in Victoria in the immediate future to study more exact details of the proposed new diversionary highway.

The report of the committee did not find every member pleased with its details.

Heavy Investment

L. J. Denton, of Skaha Lake Auto Camp, pointed to $300,000 in investments in auto lake camps along the present route, which he charged was to be abandoned without "any real thought being given to alternatives."

He contended that by-passing the city to the west would merely mean "a pile-up at the ferry opposite Kelowna, and since we all know the final course must be to go up a road on the other side, directly to Kelowna, we should see that this suggestion before us now is altogether too hasty—and costly to those of us who have invested a lot of money on the present course."

"I want to register the complaint of every owner down there," he declared, "for I felt, and they do too, that the present route can be maintained."

Mr. Pye replied by stressing that the decision to by-pass in the location under discussion was not the committee's responsibility at all.

"The government has definitely made up its mind," he pointed out. So the only thing the committee could do, he continued, was to make the best of the situation and plan as well as possible to the advantage of the community.

"And that's exactly what we're trying to do," he said. "But he added that auto courts off the main noisy route were becoming the most popular."

The meeting itself took no specific action on the report or on the complaint.

RUTLAND BOY INJURED WHEN GUN EXPLODES

RUTLAND — Jimmy Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuart, is recovering from severe facial lacerations when a gun exploded in his face.

Jimmy went into the yard to fire a shot gun to scare away some stray dogs. Pressing the trigger the gun exploded. An overcharged shell is believed responsible.

After stopping the bleeding to some extent, he went for assistance, and was taken to the Kelowna hospital. He returned home the next day. At first it was thought his eye was injured, but fortunately it escaped the force of the blast.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Preston returned last week from a trip to Alberta. They report running into blizzard conditions near Calgary.

The West Kootenay Power Co. and a group from the Rutland Board of Trade signed an agreement in connection with the street lighting, and it is expected that installation will start immediately.

CAPTURE OF A CITY, CHINESE STYLE

One of the incongruous aspects of the Chinese civil war is the way Nationalist troops hold on to a city until the Communists come within shooting distance and then pack up and move out. The evacuation of Canton ran true to the pattern. While Red armies camped on the northern suburbs, by agreement, Nationalist soldiers, top marched out in good order to the southwest. Above, peaceful as a Sunday afternoon in a Canadian village, is this scene in Canton, just after the city was evacuated by Nationalist troops, and just before Communist troops, who had been camped in the northern suburbs, moved in to take over. Barbed wire fences, used for road-blocks, have been pushed to one side of the street.

Rutland Trade Board Raising Money to Pay Balance on Fire Truck

RUTLAND — Rutland Board of Trade held its first supper meeting of the fall season in the Community Hall, Wednesday last week. About thirty business men attended and after the supper members discussed a number of matters of local importance.

The main item on the agenda was the matter of fire protection, and the ways and means of raising money to pay off the balance of about $600 on the newly-acquired fire truck, and to build the fire hall and set up the alarm system. Paul Sedlack volunteered to sponsor a series of Saturday night dances in the Community Hall to also funds for the project, and arrangements were made to complete the canvass of the district. Work on the fire hall has already started, and offers of volunteer help in its construction were called for. Following the business session Bert Chichester showed a number of interesting films, including some of the rally day, showing the crowning of the queen.

The Rutland High School football

even won the right to meet the North Okanagan zone champions, defeated Penticton High at the latter's field last Saturday 3-1. The local team has been undefeated so far, their toughest contest being the 1-0 win over Kelowna high a week previous, the latter having several Rutland 1948 players, now taking grade XIII in town. The junior high team also won their game, defeating Penticton 2-0. The girls football game resulted in a 0-0 tie. The Rutland girls are on top of the league with a margin of one point.

Mrs. Don Barto, of Lebanon, Mo., and her daughter, Mrs. L. Barto, Perito, who has been visiting Mrs. Barto's mother, Mrs. Emma Burge, left last week for the U.S. They are travelling by car. Harold Burge, of Armstrong, was also a visitor at the home of his mother last week.

WEEKLY ROUNDUP

The pride and joy of British Columbia's empire-building schemes, the 360-mile Pacific Great Eastern railway is the subject of much discussion in Washington, D.C.

Congressional advocates of a 1,400-mile rail link between Fairbanks, Alaska, and Prince George, B.C. — northernmost point of the P.G.E. — awaited official sanction from President Truman to go ahead with proposals for a joint American-Canadian survey of the route.

Senator Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.), a champion of the proposed Alaska rail link, indicated the president will soon sign legislation authorizing the opening of negotiations with Canada for the survey. Senator Magnuson said he thinks the survey could be completed within a year.

Ottawa Reaction
American eagerness to get a land communication link with Alaska can be traced to their anxiety over the vulnerability of Alaska to attack from Russia.

Russian Siberia extends to the narrow Bering Straits opposite Alaska, near the Arctic Circle. British Columbia's stand on the U.S.-Canadian proposed survey is one of indifference.

Premier Byron Johnson said recently: "It is entirely a matter for consultation between Ottawa and Washington... our plans for the P.G.E. are not in any way altered... Premier Johnson is backing $10,000,000 extension program for the P.G.E. from its present terminus at Quesnel to Prince George. Work is now underway. Eventually, the line will be extended into the rich Peace River country."

Whether the American government can persuade the Dominion's Liberal government that the enterprise will produce benefits for both countries, is a moot point.

Reports from Ottawa said the federal government has shown scant interest in the project. One Ottawa spokesman indicated the govern-

Local Artist Commended For Painting

A Kelowna artist was highly commended for one of his paintings submitted in the exhibition of B.C. Artists at Vancouver Art Gallery.

James Dalzel Johnston's painting of "The Pruners" was rated one of the most successful exhibits in the entire show.

Mildred Valley Thornton, art critic for the Vancouver Sun had this to say about the painting:

"One of the most successful paintings in the entire show is 'The Pruners' by James Dalzel Johnston. This gauche picture has the true feeling of the Okanagan fruit farm. The dark figures on the dark branches against the wintry background are arranged in a dramatic and highly successful composition, with color and authentic Canadian background."

The exhibition will be on view until October 31.

much back-slapping among B. C. provincial government leaders.

The Coalition government has already spent some $13,750,000 of the tax-payer's money on the power project, but government leaders are convinced the money is well spent.

When completed, the British Columbia Power Commission's scheme will have harnessed for public use the great turbulent waters of the Campbell River and Elk Falls on Vancouver Island.

Power capacity from the project is expected to reach 200,000 horsepower. Already a year-round capacity of 112,000 horsepower has been harnessed under the scheme.

Thousands of Vancouver Island homes, farms and city industries will enjoy the increased output of power. Government planners hope the project will encourage new and greater industries on the island.

"Enjoy Coffee More with Carnation"

says
Mrs. Richard Harris Smith,
Truro Dietitian

Mrs. Smith knows a lot about Carnation — she's a graduate dietitian with teaching experience, AND the mother of a sturdy young son who was a Carnation baby. But millions of people — experts and "just folks" — go right along with Mrs. Smith on "Coffee and Carnation."

Carnation's double-richness and homogenization give coffee a deeper flavor, a tempting color. Just try it. And remember that double-rich, homogenized, heat-refined Carnation, undiluted, adds to the appeal of the breakfast cereal or the supper dessert. Try Carnation in your cream jug regularly. And use it in all your milk cooking — one-half Carnation, one-half water, for whole milk consistency and food values.

Make Your Own Test

Try coffee and Carnation for a week. Vary the amount of Carnation till you find the combination that suits you best. Millions prefer Carnation to cream for coffee — yet Carnation costs only about half as much as the lightest cream.

SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry?"

..SURE, I STARTED IT THIS YEAR!"

Yes, son, you're now meeting up with formulae and test tubes, but chemistry has been with you all your life. In one form or another it has guarded your health, helped to feed and clothe you and provided many of the things that have made your young career so zestful.

Now you are learning how this great service works. Your first simple experiments are the roots from which sprang such basic products as chlorine to purify water, fertilizers to stimulate food growth, insecticides to kill pests and guard crops, and paint to protect and beautify. You know about nylon hosiery, for example. The same plastic is made as a monofilament, so strong that it is used for fishing line leaders and tennis racket strings.

Chemistry never stands still. It is constantly searching for and finding new and better products. For this is a chemical world and the C-I-L Oval is the symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For Instance: PLASTIC WOOD

There is another product of chemistry for home and industry. It is plastic wood, a material used to heal holes and cracks in wood. It handles like putty, in wood. It hardens into wood, with which it makes perfect union. Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, P.O. Box 10, Montreal.

KELOWNA PACKERS MEET KAMLOOPS

A Double Win for Each Means the Loop Leadership Stewart, Three Winnipeggers Set to Go Tomorrow Night

Two games with Kamloops Elks in as many nights faces Kelowna Packers this week-end. Two wins for either team will give it the league lead over the idle Vernon Canucks. Up to the present time, Elks and Packers have met only once, and that ended in a 1-all tie at Kamloops on October 8.

When Elks show here tomorrow night in their first appearance on local ice, they'll be up against a stronger team than the one hooked up with in the league opener. At the present time both squads are tied for second spot, three points back of the Canadians. Ken Stewart intends to make his first appearance in the line-up tomorrow night, centering the two former Winnipeg junior wingmen, Donny Semenchuk and Cas Gack. Semenchuk and Gack, along with another Winnipegger, Jim Middleton, came in over the week-end, and were signed on early this week. Middleton, a defenceman, is a re-instated professional, performing last year with San Francisco Shamrocks.

The scene of battle switches to Kamloops Saturday night. Vernon Canadians will be here to meet the first swing of the interior next week, starting at Kamloops Thursday, at Vernon Friday and here on Saturday.

Game time here tomorrow for the Elks' Kelowna debut is 8:30 p.m. Game time, in Kamloops Saturday is 9 p.m.

HOCKEY SCORING FIGURES DELAYED BY GAMES DATA

Harold King, official scorer for the Mainline Okanagan puck loop, was unable to issue scoring statistics this week as planned owing to delay in data covering weekend games at Naramo and Kamloops coming to hand.

By 4 p.m. yesterday, King still didn't have the score sheets for the three games played last weekend. He told the Courier statistics would be prepared promptly, but to do so required submission of reports to him as soon as the games were completed.

Ursaki Argues Himself Out Of Game as Canucks Slap Down Kamloops Elks 6-3

(Special to The Kelowna Courier)

VERNON—Laurel Harney's red-hot Vernon Canadians handed the faltering Kamloops Elks their second decisive beating in a row here Tuesday night in a Mainline-Okanagan senior fixture that had everything from fluke goals to a match misconduct penalty.

In the middle stanza the impending explosion simmered until it burst at the four-minute mark of the final period. The somewhat ambiguous "icing the puck" rule started the fireworks.

With the score reading 4-3 for the Canucks and the Elks pressing desperately, a shot from inside the Vernon blue line travelled to the Kamloops red line where the puck was picked up by Johnny Ursaki.

While attempting to clear out of his own end, Ursaki misused and the puck slid to Vernon's Len Wallington in front of the Kamloops net. The ex-Houston star nonchalantly flipped the puck past Ed Betker and the game went on ice.

Practically the entire Kamloops team, including normally cool Paul Thompson, the coach, went into a war dance and verbally attacked referee Scott Janicki and Edie Witt. Players milled around the penalty bench until the scene resembled Bernard Avenue on a Saturday night.

Janicki and Witt, Ursaki and C. Mills, discussed the matter vigorously. Ursaki was banished, first with a ten minute misconduct and then with a match misconduct, meaning the gate for the rest of the game.

But that wasn't the end of the fiasco. With Mills showing him the way, Ursaki, steaming like a bowl of clam chowder, reached the door to the Kamloops dressing room. But as he went into a rage, he decided to play tag with Janicki while the cash customers added raspberry.

Just about this time, Dr. Mel Butler, least weaver later with Kelowna, supported by three provincial policemen, marched to the scene. Order was almost promptly restored.

Ursaki finally left the ice in need of a cold shower and Paul Thompson sent his unhappy charges back to resume the game.

First Period Did It As in Kamloops on Saturday when the Canucks staggered the Elks with a five goal barrage in the opening chapter, Tuesday, the opening drive netted four goals while the Elks managed a singleton.

In the middle chapter, the Elks began to make things a little more interesting for the speedy Canadians. Only one goal was scored, this by Ab McDougall from Ursaki.

While Betker was having a bad night in the Kamloops cage, G. Bowler gave a sterling performance behind the great defence of the Canadians. With the addition of Dunc Grant, with Ponoka, Alta. last season, Harney again has a first class rearward quartet.

Following the Elks uproar in the third period, big Dave McKay really gave the fans something to shout with a sensational effort which ended with the puck in the Kamloops goal and the Canadians leading 6-3.

McKay knocked the puck off an attacking forward's stick, outran Don Johnston up the ice and from an almost impossible angle cut loose with a sizzling slap-shot that was true to its mark. It was a fitting end to a game that was as fitting as McKay's leader of every Vernon rush, should top off a terrific performance with the clinching goal of one of the most exciting games of the season.

VERNON—Bowler, Steacy, Nelson, McKay, Grant, Sullivan, Wallington, Kobussen, Loudon, Davison, Petrie, Betts, Mills, Jakes.

KAMLOOPS—Betker, Kirk, Johnston, Terry, McIntyre, Mills, B. Hryciuk, Ursaki, Lovett, McDougall.

Two Local Hoop Squads in First Tests Saturday

First test of strength for the 19-49-50 edition of the Kelowna senior B's came off at Pentiction Saturday night.

Making the trek south for the preview to league play, due to be finished last week later, with Kelowna (Herb) Capozzi, Henry Tontson, Bert Saucier and Ron Gee—all holdovers from last year—and newcomers Dave Hayward, Dick Stewart, Harold Person and Roy Hammond.

Coach Roy Longley will be watching this prep game closely. Until it's over he's not going out on a limb with any predictions. Ed Gordano is going along as Kelowna referee.

Dynamos Go Too Industrial Electric Dynamos, the city's intermediate A hopes for the coming season, likewise will show at Pentiction in an exhibition preliminary to the senior B game.

Coach Bill Treadgold has the following to choose from for his Saturday line-up: "Fudge, Marshall, Allen Anderson, Joe Gordano, Bill Kane, Dave Hill, Roy Thompson, George Pifford, Don and Art Williams, Bob Ryder and Doug Clower. Damer Verity is managing the squad this year.

GOLFERS WILL WRAP UP 1949 SEASON SUNDAY

"Last Official Divot Digging" was the heading of a memo sent all male members of the Kelowna Golf Club this week by club captain Doug Disney.

It was just a reminder that Sunday marks the official ending of the 1949 season (outdoors, that is) and respects to a gala year will be paid around the "punch bowl."

Prior to the festivities there is a little matter of cleaning up the last event of the year—the four-ball, best ball, 18-hole handicap for the Barnes Cup. Tee-off on this is 10:30 a.m.

All the cups and prizes won during the year will be awarded during the nineteenth hole chatter.

STUDENT GRIDMEN IN RETURN GAME ON NOVEMBER 5

Return game in the home-and-home American football series between Kelowna and Kamloops high schools will not come off here until a week from Saturday, it was announced today.

November 14 Deadline for Entering Boys' Teams in City Hockey Leagues

Deadline for entry in the city midget and juvenile hockey leagues has been set at November 14, it was announced this week. A bantam league also is being formed, but teams will be made up from the scores of youngsters who have been turning out to the Saturday morning workouts.

The Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association is aiming at a six-team midget loop and a four-team juvenile set-up. In both instances sponsors have stepped forward to help the boys, but some still are needed.

At the present time there are four midget teams entered in the league. There are enough boys around for another two teams. All that is needed is some organization to guide and look after them.

All midgets (16 years and under) not yet organized in teams are to be at the Arena Saturday morning for workouts between 7 and 9:30.

Owls were expected to get a chance to avenge their 10-0 defeat at Kamloops last week-end this coming Saturday. However, due to the soccer clan having spoken for the City on the 22nd hole at the Kamloops Park several weeks ago, football Golf and Country Club last week to take possession again of the At-leek challenge cup.

"Where Cash Beats Credit"

More About 3 BARBARA ANN WINS

Comedy numbers were cleverly handled by Johnnie Labreque and Andre Perron, first as the "Red Drips" and later as two sailors who were very much at sea. The "Painter and Hobo" won loud applause by their antics with pails of water and wet paint brushes.

Barbara Ann Scott, of course, is the star around whom the whole show revolves. The varied program shows many facets of her sparkling personality. As "Goldilocks" at the "Teddy Bear's Picnic," she is child-like, pert and naive. Then as "Tabu" in the "Perfume Symphony" she appears as a sultry enchantress who knows how to shimmy on skates.

In "Showboat" she becomes the flirtatious Southern belle who flutters her eyelashes and peeks from behind her ruffled parasol. This number, one of the major skits in the show, is complete with Mississippi belles, dusky picaninies and a colored "mammy."

One of Barbara Ann's most impressive solos is "On Wings of Song." Another glittering pageant is the "Sweetheart Waltz," a full chorus ballroom number in which she takes the steller role.

Grand finale is the spectacular "Indian Legend." Exquisite costuming and fine teamwork make this the best in the show. Mrs. Scott's magnificent feather costume alone cost $5,000 and was worth the price of admission to see. This last glimpse of Canada's skating queen will be long remembered in Kelowna.

Clever showmanship of producer Osborne Colson was shown in the many brilliant effects he achieved; in the stunning costumes that reputedly cost the company $50,000; in the unusual lighting effects; in the powder blue ice studded with white medallions. All these "props" brought glider and color to the show.

Music was provided by the troupe's own symphony orchestra under the direction of Jack Jardine. Dual role of M.C. and vocalist was competently handled by Rudy Hanson.

MR. SIMPSON CRUSHED BETWEEN FREEZER AND SHOWCASE.

Seated comfortably in his favorite chair, John A. Simpson, 72, storekeeper of Trenton, Ont., was relaxing in the security of his shop, when death came through the wall. With the rain beating down outside, he was following a custom of 15 years when he took his ease, but this time his habit proved fatal.

Outside Earl E. Meyers, R.R. 2, Trenton, lost control of his truck, it plowed into store, pinning Mr. Simpson against wall.

P.T.A. Aims, Objects Outlined at Peachland

PEACHLAND—Mrs. D. W. McLeod, provincial president of the Parent Teacher Federation; Mrs. C. G. McCall, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. A. H. Young, treasurer, were guest speakers at the monthly meeting of the P.T.A. held in the Municipal Hall last Thursday evening.

Mrs. McLeod congratulated the Peachland group for the work it is doing, and thought steps should be taken to encourage fathers to attend the meetings. Success is judged by the interest people take in an organization, she said.

The speaker did not think the P.T.A. should be a money-making organization, unless it is for some worthwhile venture. Outlining projects undertaken at the coast, Mrs. McLeod said one P.T.A. has work bees which brought men into action. She said the men excelled in making chairs for the auditorium, goal posts, tennis courts, etc. Another project was "Bicycle Safety Week", at which time all bicycles are inspected, brakes tested, bolts tightened, etc.

Parents are notified if there is any straight repair work to be done on the machine.

Award Points
The roll call in another P.T.A. is interesting, she said. If one parent is at the meeting, one point is awarded. If both parents attend, five points are awarded. Mrs. McLeod also spoke of the $20,000 the P.T.A. had been able to turn over to the U.B.C. to help replace the home economics building destroyed by fire. This money made it possible to start rebuilding at once, she said.

She spoke on the work done on the suppression of crime comes. This is now before the House of Commons, she pointed out.

A summer vacation reading club has been started to teach children to read good books and arouse interest in good reading. To date, 2,500 children have been enrolled.

A guide to reading for Canadian homes has been published by the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation, which had received commendation from librarians in the U.S.A. and in B.C.

Friendly Spirit
Mrs. McCall spoke on the Eastern Border Conference which was held in Oliver on October 22. She expressed the wish the same friendliness between the P.T.A. in Washington and British Columbia could spread throughout the world and lead to a lasting peace.

"Sow seeds of friendliness with our neighbors and it will spread and do a lot to boost P.T.A. work," she declared.

Other visitors at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. W. McLaughlin and Noel Armstrong, members of the George Pringle High School at Westbank.

Mrs. N. Witt offered to help at the baby clinic in the Legion Hall on November 7. Mrs. G. R. Topham has been requested to act as team captain for the current Student As-stance Association drive. Quota for Peachland is $300.

This fund will help financially-embarassed students to continue university or normal school education. Mrs. G. W. Munro volunteered to help and other organizations will be contacted. Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. Topham, Jr., Mrs. G. W. Munro, Mrs. A. E. Ruffie, assisted by Mrs. N. Witt and Mrs. S. G. Dell.

MUST MAIL U.K. XMAS PARCELS BEFORE NOV. 15

This year, gift parcels of food-stuffs and comforts will be just as welcome as ever at Christmas, for those overseas who are still living under "austerity" conditions.

The Canadian Post Office again urges the public not to delay, but to mail for Christmas overseas just as early as possible.

For the guidance of the public it announces that the following closing dates have been set for the overseas Christmas mails:

November 8, Continent, letters and parcels.
November 15, United Kingdom, parcels.
November 29, United Kingdom, letters.

Mallers are reminded that gift parcels, if bona fide and unsolicited, may be mailed up to 20 lbs. weight to individuals in the United Kingdom, but must be plainly marked, "Gift Parcel".

Parcels containing food cannot be insured.

Declaration Form
To expedite the delivery in the United Kingdom of gift parcels containing only food, discarded wearing apparel or soap, a yellow label (No. 61), obtainable at Post Offices, should be attached. The usual customs declaration form (91B), fully completed, must be affixed to all parcels addressed to a broad. Care should be taken to see that the non-adhesive customs declaration form (15B) and despatch note (16B) are completed and forwarded with the parcel where necessary.

Customs declaration form (91B) should bear in the space provided an alternative address if possible, or an indication of disposal desired, or abandonment, in case of non-delivery; otherwise such undeliverable parcels containing food or used clothing will be distributed through charitable organizations in the United Kingdom.

The total value of the contents of parcels sent to the United Kingdom or other countries without an export permit must not exceed $25.

Mallers are urged to pack all parcels firmly and securely in strong corrugated containers, wrapped tightly in several folds of clean wrapping paper, and securely tied with strong twine.

Do not pack parcels in shoe boxes or use tissue paper for outer wrapper, or ribbon to tie the outside of the parcel.

Enclose only articles suitable for mailing. Be certain that all mail is fully prepaid, correctly and clearly addressed, so that return address is given on the outside of the paper. Enclose a slip with the contents of the parcel giving the names and complete addresses of sender and addressee.

FINDING VITAMIN D
You've probably heard that vitamin D is necessary for the development of strong bones and teeth in children. What you might not have heard is that a child's normal diet does not contain sufficient vitamin D to supply his needs. Vitamin D is available in cheap, easy-to-take preparations. It should be given every child throughout the growing years.

ENERGY FOODS
Cereals are primarily energy foods but they also contain in various amounts most of the basic nutrients. Whole grain cereals—those from which nothing is removed in processing—are higher in mineral and vitamin content than refined cereals. Some ready-to-serve cereals are in the whole grain class. Look for the "whole grain" label.

STAY IN BED, ADVICE GIVEN COLD SUFFERERS

Rest in bed has stood the test of time as "a most sane and effective measure" for relief of colds, says a medical consultant in answer to a query in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

No saline, nose drops, gargle, vaccine or other preparation is known to be reliable in preventing or curing this familiar malady, he states, adding that "authoritative medical opinion supports the view that there is no known substance or combination of substances which can be relied on to prevent or cure the common cold."

Meanwhile, the Health League of Canada advises that if you catch a cold, be thoughtful, stay at home to protect others as well as yourself, cover coughs and sneezes, then destroy tissues or sterilize handkerchiefs contaminated with nose and throat discharges.

Further, says the Health League, consult a physician if fever, body aches or weakness occur, or if coughing of mucus from the chest occurs.

DEFER CALLING TENDERS FOR FLOOD CONTROL

The decision on when tenders for flood control work will be called was postponed this week when the Joint Board of Engineers, consisting of Dominion and provincial engineers, announced that a meeting to decide on calling of tenders would be postponed until the complete recovery from illness of a senior member of the board.

The meeting was originally scheduled for October 25. Ernest Smith, divisional engineer, Okanagan Flood Control, Penticton, recently said that the member was recovering satisfactorily and as a result, he believed, the meeting will probably take place later on in the month in Victoria or Vancouver.

Parties are working in the field on restaking, according to Mr. Smith, preparatory to the arrival of contractors after tenders are called and decided on.

Restaking was made necessary in some areas because stock had kicked over stakes in those areas.

LATE WAR NEWS — Last night German patrols were repulsed in another thrust against the Moselle sector from which they were driven back recently almost to the boundary town of Apache. Moscow's latest attack on Britain came with a statement by the assistant commissar of affairs to Great Britain last night calling the British contraband list a violation of the principles of international law. A Norwegian dispatch says the German steamer Deutschland was operating off Newfoundland from October 5 to 15. A spokesman for the German government announced this morning the American steamer City of Flint would be considered a war prize and brought to Hamburg.

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

A meeting of the Scouters' Council is to be held in the B.C. Tree Fruits' board room on Friday, October 28. A full attendance is looked for, as two important subjects are to come up, these being the possibility of holding a Bronze Arrowhead course for patrol leaders here in November, and a discussion of the matter of winter uniform. Arrangements for Remembrance Day will also be discussed.

The future of the Kelowna Scout Hall was the main subject of discussion at a recent meeting of the local association executive. At present the Kinsmen are doing a line job of looking after it, as a community project, but their lease expires next year, and the prospect that the association might have the responsibility on their hands is causing some concern. A special committee of the groups sponsoring the local troops is to be set up to consider the whole question.

Scouters of the district were well represented at the meeting with General Dan Spry, Chief Executive Commissioner for Canada, held in Vernon on Saturday, October 15, and took an active part in the discussions.

Arrangements are being made for a Parents' Night for the new 3rd Kelowna Troop on the first Thursday in November. The Troop's charter has arrived and will be presented that evening.

According to the Scout Leader, the stores department now has a better supply of neckerchiefs, and leaders are asked to write to the department for a list of neckerchiefs available, giving details of colors, styles and prices.

General Spry confirmed a previous report about Boy Scout Week, at the meeting in Vernon last Saturday. He stated that there would be no further such weeks, but the birthdate of the founder of the movement, B-P, would be honored by the holding of church parades on the Sunday nearest February 22. It was felt by the headquarters, that the holding of special weeks for this and that had been overdue.

A World Jamboree or Boy Scouts is to be held in Australia in 1951, the Executive Commissioner said, and he urged Canadian Scouts to start working toward participation in this big scouting event. It is to be hoped that at least one boy from the Central Okanagan can qualify to attend this.

"NO SPITTING" SIGNS PLANNED AT KAMLOOPS

KAMLOOPS — At the suggestion of the City Council's health committee, put forward originally by Alderman Helen J. Millward, the city public works department is to obtain and install immediately "No Spitting" signs at eight specified locations in the city.

There was some discussion at last week's council meeting as to the wording of the signs. In the course of this Mayor W. J. Moffatt recalled one such sign he has never forgotten. It read: "He that expects to rate as a gentleman is not expected to expectorate in a public place."

OTTAWA REPORT

By O. L. JONES, M.P.

Most of the week has been spent in discussion of the proposed changes in the British North America Act. The changes proposed would give the Canadian government power to change its own constitution, a power that has been vested in Westminster. The general principle involved is not in dispute because most parties feel that Canada should become a sovereign state. The discussion of objections to the bill made by the Progressive Conservative and Social Credit parties are based on the principle that the provinces should first be consulted. The spearhead of the controversy has been taken by the French Catholic members who are very jealous of their provincial rights, following the lead given by Mr. Duplessis who has been insistent in his demand that the British North America Act should not and cannot legally be changed before each provincial government in the Dominion has been consulted. Many citations and quotations have been presented in the House bearing out their point of view, some of which are of interest and I herewith place them before you for your information.

Sir Wilfred Laurier: "Confederation is a compact made originally by four provinces, but adhered to by all the nine provinces which joined the union."

Sir Robert Borden: "I agree with what has been said by the right hon. gentlemen regarding the desirability of lightly amending the terms of our constitution - although of course all the provinces are represented here. But inasmuch as it is a federal compact we are asked to vary."

Right Hon. Mackenzie King: "Due regard should be had to the view that a compact was made at the time of confederation, and that an amendment of the importance that such an amendment certainly would have, ought only to be proposed after there had been a conference and agreement between the Dominion and the provinces."

Senator Thomas V. (Mr. Lapointe) that a pact which was entered into at a conference where all the component parts of what was then Canada were represented should not be lightly dealt with or amended, without a conference where the opinions of the representatives of all those provinces which now form part of the Dominion could be collected and fully considered."

Hon. Arthur Meighen: "Undoubtedly the pact of confederation is a contract and there are rights involved therein not represented by the parliament of Canada. . . . The speech of the minister of justice determines, I think, without power of dispute, that there should never be suggestion of amendment affecting other parties to the contract, save after conference and consent of those other parties."

We in the C.C.F. take the point of view that the Canadian parliament should acquire this power to change its own constitution in matters solely affecting federal issues and covering only those points in the British North America Act which are clearly defined as being in the federal field of operation. While we realize there are many things on the borderline, such as education, forestry, etc., we also feel that in the past the provinces have given their sympathy and support to any project for the good of the Dominion which has been originated in Ottawa although in some cases this meant that they had to give up some of their provincial rights, especially was this the case during the war.

All divorces originating in Quebec cannot be brought to trial in that province as there are no divorce courts in Quebec.

This causes them to be tried by a committee of parliament and are usually brought before the House for final approval and disapproval. This week about fifty of the divorce bills were the subject of long discussions, principally by the Catholic members from Quebec who generally object to the principle of divorce. After a lengthy discussion, the speaker put a question and it received overwhelming support, but some members stood up, by their action demanding a vote. The speaker ruled that they were too late in standing up, and therefore, the bill was passed. For the last two or three sessions there has been a constant conflict between the Quebec members, strengthened by some members of all parties from other provinces, and the rest of the members with regard to having these divorce cases removed from the jurisdiction of the Commons. The C.C.F. has proposed the setting up a special court in Ottawa to deal with divorce cases from provinces which do not have their own courts for such cases. So far this has not received the general support of the House.

Mr. Higgins, M.P. from Newfoundland, directed a question to the Prime Minister to the effect that he wished to know what the government intended to do to combat the serious unemployment situation which is existent in Newfoundland. The Prime Minister in his reply admitted the condition and said that an item of $750,000 for public buildings, another item for $750,000 for dredging and still another item of $1,000,000 for harbors and rivers generally had been provided to expedite these several projects with a view to the immediate relief of the unemployment situation.

Mr. Argue, M.P., directed a question to the minister of justice enquiring if an investigation is to be made into the recent price increase in crude oil, gasoline, and fuel oil. The minister did not give a reply because as a matter of courtesy to the attorney general of Saskatchewan, to whom he had sent a letter that day, he could not divulge the contents of said letter until it had been received in Regina.

This brought a supplementary question from Mr. Angus Maclean, M.P., who asked if the government contemplated an amendment of the Combines Investigation Act at the present session, and if so, when would the amendments be introduced. Mr. Carson answered in the affirmative and promised to introduce the amendments in the near future. He has been well known that the minister feels the lack of highway policy aid towards construction of a system of roads in Canada.

Once the principle of dominion government support for a Trans-Canada Highway is firmly established, one can well agree with this association that the policy should be enlarged to include not only one road across Canada but a whole system of roads linking together all our main towns. This would bring large revenue to our Dominion by attracting tourists who otherwise stay in the U.S.A., enjoying the better highways that that country has provided for tourists.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parents' Teachers' Association took place on Monday of last week in the school. The president was in the chair, and minutes of the previous meeting were read and the financial statement presented. The guest speaker was Ev. Greenaway, of Kelowna, who gave an interesting talk on the Students' Assistance Association and its objectives. Following his talk the speaker invited questions from the audience.

The Halloween party was discussed, and a committee was chosen to make final arrangements and purchase the prizes. The school teachers will be in charge of the games.

What's New at Heather's?

By MIL CHITTENDEN

Time for another "What's New at Heather's" and here I am with hundreds of things to tell you about—and room for only five! This week I'll lead off with cunning new "Stork Club" fashions... deceptive new maternity frocks that keep the help UNAPPARENT.

MU'S THE WORD for you pretty young moms-to-be! Cause here's a dress that can keep a secret—and keep you pretty as ever in the months ahead. It's a "Kleever Klad" design, knowingly styled in a misty Cloud Blue crepe. $19.95. One of many lady-in-waiting fashions now on view at Heather's. So if the stork has you on his calling list, whip right down and take your pick while the selection is at its peak. Sizes 12 to 18.

Oh, for the life of a college girl! Or a high school smoothie or anybody else lucky enough to get this wonderful wool two-piece. It's straight from the heart of the fashion makers with its thistle-soft jersey fabric, its luscious two-tone coloring (pink with claret, or blue with blue). Styled in California with the new deep "bat wing" sleeves—the top shirred for perfection of fit—the waist cinched-in with a wide "boned" waistband! $23.95 in Heather's Sportswear Shop.

Wardrobe Multipliers—A weskit, skirt and shirt trio by Saba of California. Three separate pieces that are almost a capsule wardrobe in themselves!

Slim wool skirt in Pumpkin tone... weskit that picks up the same exciting hue and combines it with bold, contrasting checks... plus a white shirtmaker blouse in heavy quality crepe. There's variety unlimited in a wardrobe of go-together pieces like these. You'll combine them with other outfits—or wear them together as a co-ordinated ensemble.

It's a new formula for smart dressing. You pick a number of mated separates... and watch your wardrobe double, triple, quadruple. It's easy arithmetic for budgets, too, when each little piece adds a complete new costume, subtracts so little cash. All three separates for $25.95 in Heather's Sportswear.

Heather's makes a fashion splash with raincoats by Poslun's. Uninhibited little show-offs that make the most of fashion's latest whims! These are "raining favorites" in every sense of the word. Slickly tailored in gabardine, they keep you dry as a duck's back—boast the kind of style features you expect with the Poslun label. In rich Congo brown with two-way belt, detachable hood, self-covered buttons, satin lining. Get ready for the showers ahead! Then when it rains, you will shine—in a fashion-right coat from Heather's! $35.00.

Tongues are wagging about the TINY prices on many distinctive new dresses at Heather's. Some are so low that you'll look twice to see you aren't mistaken! These are fashions that emphasize a million-dollar look for a moderate pocket-book. And welcome them are, indeed! One "Kleever Klad" design comes in a soft tissue faille, has the gently rounded shoulders, the set-in raglan sleeves, the plunging neckline with graceful shawl collar, the subtle hip interest—all high-style features that you expect only in more expensive dresses. Yet it comes at a price that your budget will approve—a modest $19.95. In castle grey, green, brown or vintage wine. Sizes 10 to 16.

United Church Young People Plan Party Monday Evening

A Halloween masquerade party is being planned by the senior young people's group of the United Church Monday at 8 p.m. Members are invited to bring a friend, and invitations have also been sent to the junior young people and the Japanese young people's organizations.

The upstairs portion of the hall will be used. Final arrangements are in the hands of the various committees appointed at the meeting held last Monday.

An interesting program, including dancing and games, is being planned by the entertainment committee. A note of caution is sounded, however. Adding to the fun will be the forfeits dealt out to all those who fail to come in costumes. The regular Wednesday night meetings and Sunday evening socials after church have started, and anyone who has not joined is urged to attend the next meeting. The senior young people have drawn up a busy schedule for the coming season which insures all its members of participation in a program not only interesting, but also varied and worthwhile.

Smith officiated at the marriage rites which united Phoebe Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilkin, of Vernon, and Douglas Lawley, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Duggan, of Oyanama.

A cocoa gabardine dressmaker suit with dark brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. The groom's only sister, Miss Doreen Duggan, was bridesmaid, wearing a grey suit with wine accessories and gardenia corsage. Mr. Albert Myers, of Oyanama, was groomsmen, and nephew of Vancouver, met at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. The rooms were decorated with pink and white streamers and chrysanthemums. A tiered wedding cake centred the table, flanked by vases of carnations and Esther Reid daisies.

The couple left for a motor trip to the United States, the bride donning a top coat of hunter's green over her wedding suit. Mr. and Mrs. Duggan will make their home in Vernon.

Plans Complete For Annual Catholic Bazaar November 5th

With the responsibilities shared by more parishioners, more big prizes for the grand drawing and the further growth of the Kelowna Catholic parish, the annual bazaar is shaping up as the most successful ever held here.

Date for the much-looked-for event of the year among the 2,000 parishioners is Saturday of next week, November 5, in St. Joseph's Hall. Again all proceeds will go into the building fund.

A short time ago the bazaar convener, Mrs. H. Beaubien, made an appeal in writing to the parishioners for donations of all kinds for the many booths.

All the parish organizations—the Catholic Women's League, the Holy Name Society, the Knights of Columbus, the Catholic Youth Organization and the Sodality of the Children of Mary and the French Social Club are co-operating in the 1944 endeavor.

Many Convenues

Those in charge of the various booths are:

C.W.L.: home cooking, convener by Mrs. Louise Brockman and Mrs. J. H. Hromek.

Fancy work and pillow slips, convener by Mrs. G. Bazzana and Mrs. U. Ciancone.

The meeting will commence at 7:45 p.m., and the doors will close at 7:55 so there will be no disturbance during the radio program. Chairman of the meeting will be Miss Marjorie B. Smith, of the U. B.C. extension department. Miss Smith will be in Kelowna November 4 and 5 to conduct a P.T.A. workshop in study group leadership.

Next meeting of the P.T.A. will be held Monday, November 14.

LOST AIR RACE AGAINST STORK

—Central Press Canadian
The stork outraced an airplane over the Atlantic ocean and delivered a four-pound baby boy to Mrs. Parikka Parker, shown here, of New York, when the Constellation was 400 miles from Shannon, Ireland. Mrs. Parker, 20-year-old Bavarian-born mother, was enroute to join her soldier husband, Sgt. James Parker, in Weisbaden. Dr. Fred Henschel, a passenger on the airliner, delivered the baby. He was assisted by Stewardess Mary Jane Hinkley, a registered nurse. Said Dr. Henschel: "It only goes to show that a doctor ought never to go abroad without his little black bag."

CARNIVAL AIDS WINFIELD HALL

WINFIELD —The carnival which was held in the Memorial Hall for three successive nights, concluded with a dance on Friday night, proved very successful and the proceeds have greatly augmented the hall fund.

Miss Irma Moody, Vancouver, is renewing old acquaintances in the district, and is staying with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Toane, of Sicamous, left for their home last week, after spending the season picking apples.

The recent heavy frost has hastened the picking of apples, and the majority of the crop is now under cover.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bollie, Copper Mountain, and Mrs. E. Law, Pentticon, are visiting in the city, guests at the Royal Anne Hotel.

A HAPPY OLD AGE

Now that men and women are living longer it is a logical step for people in middle age to make normal preparations for a happy, healthy old age. Regular medical check-ups will prevent the undetected development of dangerous growths or insidious diseases and expert medical advice will assure a properly balanced diet. The declining years can be happy and healthy. Prepare for them intelligently—the younger the better.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Holden, Calgary, who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Edwards, Winfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Goudie, Royal Ave., were hosts to ten at dinner on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. MacLean and Mr. and Mrs. R. Fraser left Wednesday night immediately following the Barbara Ann Scott ice frolic to attend the annual meeting of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association in Vancouver.

Mrs. W. R. Goudie and Mrs. S. A. Card were ten hour hostesses on Tuesday to honor Mrs. James Holden who is visiting from Calgary and Mrs. R. Postlethwaite, of Vancouver.

"I've Heard So Much About Kelowna," Says Barbara Ann Scott Upon Arrival

"I've heard so much about Kelowna, and I'm glad to be here." Those were the first words uttered by Canada's "Queen of the Ice Lanes," Barbara Ann Scott, upon her arrival in the city Wednesday afternoon. Two pipers from the Canadian Legion Pipe Band were present as the world's figure skating champion stepped off the C.P.R. train. Over 200 people were on hand to welcome B. A. to the city, and scores more lined Ellis street to get a glimpse of the ice star as she was driven to the Royal Anne hotel.

She was officially welcomed to Kelowna by Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games and Fred Gibson, president of the Kelowna Board of Trade. Four and a half-year-old Frances Gibson, daughter of the trade board president, presented B. A. with a corsage of flowers. "Li'l black Sambo," a perky black poodle who is accompanying Barbara Ann on the current Western Canada tour, was held tightly in B. A.'s arms as she was led to the microphone. She only let go of her pet for a fraction of a minute when she accepted the flowers from Frances Gibson.

Many at the station Scores of people at the station were disappointed they were unable to get a glimpse of the figure skating champion. Many waited for more than an hour before arriving. The entire station ceremony took less than five minutes.

Barbara Ann was probably the most sought-after individual in British Columbia when she arrived here yesterday afternoon.

A Courier reporter was in the midst of a conversation with her over the telephone when the operator interrupted, saying, "Sorry to interrupt Miss Scott, but New York is calling."

Needless to say, the Courier-Scott conversation ended abruptly. Ten minutes later the same scribe telephoned B. A., but she was still talking to New York.

"As soon as she is through, San Francisco is waiting to speak to her," the desk clerk remarked. "Would you like to speak to her mother?"

Replying in the affirmative, the Courier reporter asked Mrs. Scott to set a time for a brief interview with her daughter.

"We haven't even eaten yet," replied Mrs. Scott. "Somebody has fallen down somewhere. There wasn't even a dinner on the train. And now the hotel dining-room is closed down, and they tell me there's not a crust of bread in the hotel. We were given a box of apples when we boarded the train, and everyone each had an apple."

Long Schedule Mrs. Scott graciously declined to allow her daughter to be interviewed until she had something to eat. "She's very busy talking over long distance at the present time, and as soon as she is finished, everyone is going to have something to eat. They have a long session ahead of them."

The mother of the figure skating champion thought that the railway company or the hotel should have arranged to have meals for the troupe upon arrival.

Before last night's performance, B. A. practiced for about an hour on the arena ice.

When she was introduced to the George Brown arena commission chairman, Mr. Gibson remarked, "He's the man who will be responsible if you fall down tonight!"

"No I'll blame myself," replied Barbara's ice queen with a twinkle in her eyes.

Others introduced at the station were Les Wilson, president of the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, and E. H. Oswald, president of the Kelowna Figure Skating Club.

W.I. WILL ADOPT BRITISH CHILD

A British child will be adopted and a fund set aside for the welfare of the youngster, it was decided at a meeting of the Kelowna Women's Institute held last Tuesday.

President Mrs. L. Knox was in the chair and sixteen members were present.

In order to help some talented scholar, a memorial scholarship will be set aside. A party for members of the Women's Institute is planned for November 23 in the Women's Institute Hall. Following the completion of business, lunch was served by Mrs. Coe, Mrs. Wilkin and Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. L. Knox were contest winners.

Barbara's father, the late Clyde

Scott, was military secretary of the Canadian Army when Mr. Stirling was Minister of National Defence in 1934 under the Bennett government. "We always had a standing invitation to visit the Okanagan," declared Mrs. Scott.

While in the city, the couple made a point of visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stirling and they recalled old times spent together in Ottawa.

Years ago, Mrs. Scott said she visited the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes district, but she never came as far as Kelowna. Her husband died in 1941 after he returned from overseas.

Barbara was thrilled over the receptions she has received throughout her Western Canada tour. She was a picture of port beauty as she stepped off the train, and upon arrival at the hotel, she was hounded by autograph seekers.

B. A., her mother, and two members of the troupe, Manuel Del Toro and Jerry Reinfeld, were having a plate of "Irish stew" when a Courier reporter interviewed her. "There's nothing like Irish stew when you're hungry," declared Barbara Ann. "That's her favorite dish," remarked Mrs. Scott.

By this time, "Li'l Black Sambo" was getting impatient for his food, and when a plate of fried hamburger mixed with scrambled eggs arrived at the table, he perked up his ears. This reporter moved in the booth while Sambo tackled the meal.

"He can sit up at the table if he wants to, but I guess he's tired," remarked B. A.

Mrs. Scott said Sambo is rapidly "catching on" to Barbara's skating numbers. "At present, he likes the Teddy Bear number the best," Mrs. Scott said. "When Babs is on the ice, he sits in the dressing room and cries until we let him out."

The noted visitors are looking forward to their brief stay in Kelowna.

the city. Meanwhile Mr. Roxby joined the forestry service in 1930, and he stayed in this branch until 1940, when he was requested to assist Col. A. Parlow in forming a Forestry Corps. A unit was formed at Kamloops, and he later went to Victoria to set up the B.C. division of the Forestry Corps.

Overseas in 1941

Mr. Roxby went overseas in 1941. He was stationed with the Forestry Corps in Scotland for some time, and in November, 1945, was posted to France. During the Ardennes engagement Mr. Roxby once again showed conspicuous gallantry on the battlefield, and as a result of this battle, he was mentioned in dispatches and later awarded the M.B.E. He was also promoted to the rank of Lt.-Colonel.

At the end of hostilities, Mr. Roxby was made British Forest Controller of the army of occupation in Germany. While on duty, he suffered a heart attack in January, 1946, and was invalided back to Canada on a hospital ship the following March.

He returned to Kelowna and was discharged with the rank of Lt.-Colonel.

In January, 1947, when the Kelowna regulated building area was set up by the provincial government, Mr. Roxby was appointed building inspector. He was particularly suited for this position, and FOUR AND A HALF year old Frances Gisborne is shown presenting Barbara Ann with a corsage of flowers shortly after she arrived at the C.N.R. station yesterday afternoon. B.A., who always carries her pet dog, "Li'l Black Sambo" in her arms, dropped the perky black poodle for a minute while she accepted the flowers. Photos by Ribelin; engravings by Pope's Studio.

Scoop left the troupe in Winnipeg when the rigours of the road proved too much for his high strung temperament. His doctor blamed his condition on the excitement, noise of people and constant change of scene.

In commenting on the new proposed Drive-In Cleaning Establishment here in Kelowna . . . we say, that now having achieved Drive-In Cafes, a Drive-In Theatre, Drive-In Cleaners, we may hope eventually to be able to find a Drive-In Parking Space on Bernard. However, as far as this last problem is concerned, Brown's Prescription Pharmacy has a space clear in front of its doors always (guarded by a Red Fire Hydrant). EVEN "SAMBO" WAS HUNGRY

One local restaurant scrapped the "no dogs allowed" sign when Barbara Ann arrived here yesterday afternoon.

"Li'l black Sambo", B. A.'s perky black poodle, went along with the rest of the company to Chapin's Cafe, and were having lunch within an hour after their arrival. The hotel dining room was closed.

"He likes hamburger mixed with scrambled eggs," declared Barbara as she placed the dog's lunch on a side-plate. And Sambo made short work of cleaning up the meal. "He's hungry", B. A. said.

With a wave of her hand, Barbara Ann overlooked the fact everyone in her troupe were hungry after the journey. "Won't do us any harm," she said. "Besides it's good for the waist line."

UNDER SCHEME
C. H. Neale, city electrical superintendent, has been included in the city's superannuation scheme, it was revealed at Monday night's council meeting.
